The New Yorks met the League leaders at Cin einnati yesterday and were easily beaten. They ald not lose fourth place, however, as the Battimores dropped a ball at Cleveland. The Brook-lyns played a stiff game at St. Louis and won after a hard fight, thereby taking eighth place from the Philadelphias, who were not in the game with the Chicagos. The latter supplanted the Pittsburgs in sixth place, because the Washingtons scored an unexpected victory over Wat-kins's men. The Bostons had an easy time at Louisville, and tightened their hold on third place. The results:

CINCINNATI, 12; NEW YORK, 6.

CINCINNATI, 12; NEW YORE, 6.

CINCINNATI, May 26,—The New Yorks made their initial appearance of the season at League Park minus the services of George Davis, whose absence, it seems, leaves a hole in the infield which is more than any of Joyce's subs can fill. President Nick Young and John T. Brush witnessed the game from a box, but their august presence evidently did not awe Joyce, who started several uscless if not senseless kicks. The first was in the first inning, when Emsile called an illegal delivery on Seymour, and another was in the same inning, when Emsile called an illegal delivery on Seymour, and another was in the same inning, when Joyce claimed that Gorcoran purposely blocked Van Haitren's throw. When the umpire in the second instance refused to call Corcoran out Joyce kieked long and strenuously.

The Cincinnatis got their eye, and their bats as well, squarely on the ball to-day for the first time in a test and, aided by errors of commission and omission by the visitors, were successful. Seymour was the easiest proposition probably the locals have faced. The southpaw was evidently in bad form, having neither control nor speed, and his support was by no means brilliant. The New Yorks started on Breitenstain as if they would batout the game then and there. Van Haitren beat out a pretty bunt, and went to third on Tiernan's drive to right, but on which Mike was caught trying to reach second. Joyce then smashed another to right and Van scored. Wilmot went out, but Gleason hit to centre and Joyce counted. Hartman singled past Corcoran, but Gleason was caught trying to steal third. The Reds did one better in their half on Seymour's illegal delivery, a base on balls, and timely singles by McChee and Corcoran. In the second the visitors failed to score, although Seymour got a hit on a bunt, but the Reds continued to be on intimate terms with Seymour, and made a brace more of runs on a hit by pitcher, Millor's triple, and a server twice. Joyce and Wilmot setting mate terms with Seymour, and made a brace more of runs on a bit by pitcher, Miller's triple, and a sacrifice.

The Joyceites still showed fight in the third, and scored twice, Joyce and Wilmot getting their bases on balls and Gleason bringing them in with a single after they had made a pretty double steal. The last half of this inning, however, saw the undoing of Seymour. Holliday hit a single to centre, McPhee walked, "Cy'advanced them a base by a well-developed balk, and Corcoran scored them with a single. Steinfeldt sacrificed and Vaughn singled, scoring Corcoran. Then came a single by Miller, a double by Beckley, and singles by Smith and Holliday, and when at last the inning had ended six pairs of red stockings had filted past the plate. In the fourth the New Yorks presented a changed front. Gettig went into the box, Joyce covered second and Warner donned the mask and wind pad and Grady went to first. After this runs were not so pientiful. The only run scored off Gettig was made in the sixth on two singles. The visitors did little with Breitanstein until the last two innings. Grady's double and Van Haltren's single yielded a run fin the eighth and Wilmot's and Gettig's doubles another in the ninth. The score:

ST. LOUIS, May 26.—St. Louis and Brooklyn played good ball to-day, and 2,000 fans looked on and sorrowed because the visitors won. It was Hall's fault that the visitors got the run in the first, and before the end of the game he had another costly error charged up to him. The run setting was in this wise: Griffin hit to Hall, who fumbled, allowing him to get first, then he threw wild, permitting Griffin to get to third. Jones's single brought Griffin to get to third. Jones's single brought Griffin home. In the first half of the third Jones singled, and scored on Sheckard's safety and an out. Ciphers were the order till the last half of the eighth, then Harley singled to centre, and Clements to right. Cross forced Clements out at second and Harley scored. Turner's single sent Cross to third and Sugden's hit brought him home. In the ninth Kennedy doubled, Griffin sacrificed to third, Sneckard's single brought Kennedy across the plate. Then Lachance, who swore at Umpire Cushman in the eighth, swatted for two bases and Sheckard St. LOUIS.

Notwithstanding the rain yesterday, the water-soaked links of the Dyker Meadow Golf Ctub at Fors Hamilton were well crowded with players, and only sunshine was lacking to make the first open tournament at Brooklyn one of the greatest events of the year. There was a lack of onlookers, both in the clubhouses and tent and in the public grounds, and the forty-two who trudged the six-mile course had only the leve of the game to urge them onward. Travis was not at his best in putting, yet Cochrane beat him by only a stroke. The surprisingly poor holes made by the best of the players were due to the wet condition of the long grass off the course, which would cling to the irons and make it almost impossible to play out a badly directed ball, which under ordinary circumstances would have been

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN. HALD AND MICHARL WANT ONLY 87,000 TO BACK

THE SUN, FRIDAY, ANY E7, 1808.

They Are Blatched to Bide for the America

Cycle Racing Association, but the Mana-gers of the Latter Think the Demand is You Steen-Where In That Meetrical Tandem There was an illustration of the large ideas in the heads of cycle racing men at the offices of the American Cycle Racing Association yes terday afternoon, when a meeting was held to settle upon details for the match race between Eddle Bald and Jimmy Michael that was agreed upon last winter. Dave Shafer, chael's manager, represented him, while Bald spoke for himself. The race had been tacitly greed upon to be run at Manhattan Beach or Sept. 3 ever since it was postponed from Madison Square Garden in December, 1897. "What do you suppose they demanded for a purse!" asked a member of the association after the lively and protracted meeting was over. "Nothing less than $7,000. Talk about swoller heads. Whew! No the race is not off. The men have signed to ride the match for us, but we have not been able to agree upon terms." The asphalt strips on Hudson street are greatly in need of repair. There are places where the holes in the surface are dangerous, particularly as this street is used quite a little at night by wheelmen. The injunction to street cleapers to pick up nails and glass seems to avail little. The asphalt strips alluded to are plentifully besprinkled at points with glass which looks as if had been intentionally broken up and thrown into the street.

It is lamented by the better class of cyclists, but there seem to be as many creatures of the masher variety riding wheels as there are walking on the uptown thoroughfares. Some of the rebuffs and disappointments scored by this class of men are occasionally as amusing as they are enjoyable to the onlookers, who feel that the class is a reproach to all wheelmen. One of the commonest experiences of the bicycle beau is to discover that fine figures do not make fine faces. An incident of this kind in which the discomfited one acknowledged the humorous point and told the story at his own expense, oc curred on the Boulevard a few days ago. The man had been scorching along behind a clever woman rider who was well dressed and made a fine figure awheel. When he caught up to her and was about to turn on his fascinating smile, he found that she was the homely nurse girl of his next door neighbor.

E. C. G.—To clean a chain well so as to start with it as bright as when new requires time. Take it off, put it in a tin pan or vessel of any kind, and cover it with kerosene. Let it remain over night in order that all the dirr will be cut away. The next day it will require two or three rinsings in fresh kerosene to carry away the last particles of grit. Of course, it should be wiped after each kerosene bath in order to facilitate the process. After all the dirt is removed hang the chain out in the air for a while and let the coal oil evaporate. If you use a coarse and hard graphite it will not be amiss to put a very little lubricating oil on the rivets. It is better, however, to use some compound of graphite that will of itself reach the joints and leave graphite in them. Some prefer a drypowdered graphite, while others argue in favor of a home-made mixture of pure graphite with kerosene oil. Lubricating oil on a chain collects dust, and it is better to experiment and find some graphite that auits you rather than to use any oil. The makers of graphite compounds naturally extol their own products, and expert opinions regarding their merits differ.

pounds naturally extol their own products, and expert opinions regarding their merits differ.

On Decoration Day an opportunity will be received to learn how great is the drawing power of bicycle racing this year. The day usually marks the real opening of the sport, and it being a general holiday the attendance at the track and road events is usually large, in spite of the many counter attractions. This spring will be found new conditions. The policy of granting several sanctions in one locality will come to its first test. Attractive programmes will be offered at both Berkeley Oval and Ambrose Park. Oddly enough nothing is scheduled for Mannatan Beach. The clash of a track in New York and one in Brooklyn on the same day will serve to indicate by the attendance at each the hold that the sport has upon the public. In addition to the races at the places named, there are several rival attractions to be run off in New Jersey. The Irvington-Millburn road race always draws its thousands, and in the atternoon the track events of the Atalanta Wheelmen will be held at Waverly. At the Clifton track the Excelsior Boat Club will hold forth. There will also be a meet at Poughkeepsie under the auspices of the Crockett Wheelmen and one at Patchegue. Whether all of these events can draw a paying crowd on the same day is the interesting question to be solved. If they do, it will mark this as the boom year in cycle racing.

Oil is being poured on the troubled racing waters of the National Cycledrome, the greasing material being chiefly in the form of United States currency. Yesterday Gougoliz and Lamberjack were so far placated that they started for Philadelphia to ride there to-morrow and Monday. If this programme is carried out it means that the tandem match race that was to be run between the team named and Sager and Swamsbrough at Berkeley Oval on Monday is off. The Frenchmen say that they never signed a contract for such a match and know nothing about it except what they have heard. As the entry list for the events of the Associated Cycling Clubs is remarkaof the Associated Cycling Clubs is remarka-bly large it will not seriously mar the sport of the day if the tandem match is not run. If the Frenchmen do not appear, however, there will be opportunity for the Racing Board to take a hand in the muddle that the imported contingent is making, for the race has been ad-vertised by the managers. As yet the foreigners have done nothing to indicate that they are class enough to go against the native cracks. Robertson has shown the most promise, but he is not in form. All the attention gained by the aggregation has been of a very cheap, dime-mu-seum kind. When the managers of these men put a check upon their antics and get them down to winning races they will receive due honors, but as matters have been going the riders and managers have been doing nothing but nauseat-ing the public and injuring the sport. the Associated Cycling Clubs is remarka-

Neither Custom House officials nor any one else have heard of an electrical tandem arriving from Paris, and the wonder of the day in racing circles is where the electrical machine is to come from behind which it has been advertised that Jimmy Michael will ride at Ambrose Park. A rumor is current that a special electrical cycle has been built for the occasion by a Brooklyn concern, but if any machine of the kind exists the owners are astonishingly backward in exhibiting it. The promoters who advertise the electrical ride of Michael on their placards have nothing to say on the subject except that "Michael will break the record." On the entry blank nothing is said about electrical pacing, but the announcement is made that "Michael will race."

Forward, the champion of the Philedalabie Forrest, the champion of the Philadelphia Cricket Club, will nier Travis this morning, and Smith will meet Cochrane. The time of receiving entries for the team match has been extended until this evening. Rain did not stop the women from competing in the semi-annual championship of the Morris County Golf Club yesterday. The first cham-County Golf Club yesterday. The first championship cup was won outright by Miss Anna Ford, who scored two wins in 1895 and the final win in the spring of 1896. In the fall of that year Mrs. William Shippen scored a win for the present cup. On Decoration Day last year Miss Helen Shelton won, and last fall Miss Alico Strong was successful. Yesterday Miss Helen Shelton won again, and another victory will give the cup to her outright. The conteat was the first club championship for women instituted in this country. The net scores yesterday were not as low as usual, owing to the unfavorable weather. They were: Miss Shelton, 115; Mrs. William Shippen, 121; Miss Willis, 131; Mrs. Arthur Dean, 137; Miss Field, 151. day, as far as Sprin; field: continue to Pearsalla, to Fenhurs, Woodshurg, and Lawrence, to Far RockaWay.

The Mapleton Cycle Club will hold a series of open road races on June 18. The list of events will include a five-mile handicap, hair-mile for boys under 18 years, half-mile scratch, quarter-mile handicap, and one mile for the champiouship of Thirlisth Ward, firodally. Entry blanks may be had from A. Arthur, Eighteenth avenue and Fifty fourth street, Brocklyn.

J. C. Riley.—The Kinth avenue cavated railroad runs special bicycle trains to Sundays. The schedule is as follows: Running north from Rector street every eighteen minutes between 7:28 and 10:38 o'clock is the morning, and from 4:28 to 8:28 o'clock in the evening. Going south, the trains start from 15th street and run at the same intervals as those north bound, from 6:38 to 10 o'clock in the morning, and from 8:24 to 7:30 o'clock in the sweining. The fare is for blcycles, whether singles or tandems. The trains will run on holldsys.

G. M. Mayer.—There is seldom a century run going out of New York in which unattached wheelmen are not welcome to enter. You should watch the notices of runs in these noise. There are several double centuries scheduled for Sunday and Monday, but there are comparatively few single runs on the card. A pleasant one will be that of the Rodney Wheelmen of Brooklyn to Philadelphia, from where a train can be taken to return. A run all in one direction is better than one that doubles the course and leads through the same scenery a second time. The York-ville Wheelmen have a century to Cakdale, L. L., and the Langiro Wheelmen have one to Patchogue, L. I. You will probably be welcome in either.

AMATEUR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP. Tait and Fergusson in the Finals To-Day at Hoylake,

LONDON, May 28.-The fifth round in the amateur golf championship contest at Hoylaks was finished to-day. The weather was perfect. Tait beat Graham, Low beat Whigham, Fergusson beat Fry and Robb beat Ball. The local players are all out and the four remaining are all St. Andrew's men.

The semi-final round was full of brilliant play. Tait beat Low on the twenty-second hole and Fergusson beat Robb. The final round will be

This is the fourth time since the amateur championship was instituted in 1886 that the finalists have been Scotchmen, and the first time that both have halled from St. Andrew's. Tait, who when he won in 1896 entered from the Black Watch, will find S. Mure Fergusson a strong antagonist. He is one of the best known players abroad, and was only beaten by one hole in the finals of the amateur championship of 1894 by John Bail, Jr., which was also played at Hoylake. In the spring meeting at St. Andrew's on May 4 Fergusson was only beaten 3 strokes by L. Balfour Melville for the silver cross, and won the Bombay medal, the next prize. Fergusson's score was 83, and Tait, with 86, was third to him in the large field of players.

INTERVARSITY CHAMPIONSHIPS. Crack Athletes of the Rival Colleges Bend; for a Royal Struggle To-day.

Though the war has usurped a great deal of the attention generally given to sport at this season of the year, it is claimed that nothing short of a bombardment of the track will deter the usual crowd from attending the annual championship meeting of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes, which takes place at Berkeley Oval to-day and to-morrow The preliminary skirmishes between the cracks have been productive of a number of close finishes, and so evenly are the men matched in most events that the experts will find it difficult to select the winners. In the sprint races Rush will carry the Prince ton colors, and will be a hard man to beat. Another formidable representative of old Nassau is F. W. Jarvis. An even greater favorite for the event is T. W. Tewkesbury of Pennsylvania, Last season he was credited with "even time," and under the mentorship of Trainer Murphy he developed his natural speed to such an extent that he administered a defeat to Cham-pion Wefers in the 120-yard dash at the relay carnival on April 30. Those who witnessed the race are tirm in the belief that Tewkesbury will enroll his name among the intercollegiate cham-pions. That Tewkesbury can stay as well as show speed is evidenced by his time of 501-5 seconds in the relay quarter made on the same seconds in the relay quarter made on the sam-day, so he may also account for the furiong dash Pennsylvania has a great team for the hai mile in A. Grant, E. A. Mechling and L. J. Lane day, so he may also account for the furions dash. Fennsylvania has a great team for the half mile in A. Grant, E. A. Mechling and L. J. Lanc. These three are good for under two minutes, though possibly Grant may be detailed to run in the mile, leaving the other two to do battle with J. F. Cregan, the Princeton crack. Cregan, who made such a plucky fight with Orton for the mile race last year, will have dangerous opponents at this distance in the two Grants. A. Grant, who will wear the red and blue of Pennsylvania, covered the mile in 4 minutes 28 3-5 seconds at the varsity handicap games. He is expected to clip a few seconds of this time in the bix race. D. Grant of Harvard won the Harvard-Yale mile in 4 minutes 26 1-5 seconds. With three such speedy men it would not be at all surprising to see a new record established.

In the hurdle races Pennsylvania has a valuable acquisition in A. C. Kraenzlein, the A. A. U. champion. His time, 16 4-5 seconds from eight yards behind the scratch mark at the U. P. handicap games, is equal to even time for the 120 yards, and is a better performance than the yale crack, E. C. Perkins, has accomplished this season. The race will probably lie between these two, though F. H. Fox of Harvard may prove a surprise to the talent. The low hurdle event should produce a grand race between A. C. Kraenzlein and J. L. Bremer, the intercollegistic record holder, who will once more represent Harvard.

Unless the judge objects to the style of Fetterman, there is little doubt that he will win the walk for Pennsylvania. The jumping events will bring out the best class seen in some years, and the winners will have to do something above the average. The Yale blue promises to be prominent in the pole vault. Pennsylvania appears to have a nortgage on the weight events.

Columbia lacks good material except in the bicycle events. In these she will have such well-known circuit chasers as Irwin A. Powell, Ray Dawson, H. K. Hird, J. F. Williams, Jr. anii C. C. Schwarz.

There appears to be little doubt i
